College's counselors begin duties

By BILL WINTER
Editor

A staff of counselors is on duty at the new Belleville Area College daytime center at Washington School, ready, able and willing to advise prospective students and accept registration for the fall term that begins here Aug. 20.

The counselors will be on duty each day from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, this week and next week. The registration is scheduled for those hours from now through Tuesday, Aug. 14.

Washington School is located at West 20th Street and Nevada Avenue. One of three elementary schools closed by the Granite City School District effective this summer, it has now been leased by Belleville Area College.

College director here is Larry A. Schmalenberg of BAC.

Built in 1901 as a four-classroom school, Washington was expanded in 1904.

A tour of the school last week by a former pupil of Washington in the 1940s showed that it has weathered the years in good condition except for a bit of window vandalism. The rooms are cheerfully decorated, and new furniture has been moved in to accommodate college-size students.

In addition to an ample number of spacious classrooms, there is a room for students to study or to relax with refreshments. Schmalenberg sees the building as more than adequate for the provision of expert instruction for Trapped in a boardinghouse while a storm rages outside, strangers soon learn that one of them is a murderer. The melodrama has just finished a 27-year run in London.

Courts still delay ruling on new dam

"Justice delayed is justice denied." Whether that applies to a series of delays in replacing Alton Locks and Dam 26 with a new lock and dam two miles downstream depends on whether one sees the replacement as necessary or as wasteful. But there is no question that court delay has become the "name of the game."

With the trial of a lawsuit against the $400,000,000-plus lock-dam project scheduled to start tomorrow in Washington, another delay has been ordered by U. S. District Judge Charles Richey.

He has ordered both sides to appear Aug. 7 for a pre-trial conference, where it will be decided whether the case will go to trial at all this year. He said the decision will depend partly on the outcome of a major criminal case at which he is presiding.

The suit was filed in 1974 by railroads and two environmental groups. It is contended that construction of the proposed new river facilities would create unfair competition for railroads, and that the lock and dam could damage wildlife and scenic beauty.

Proponents say the old dam and locks are deteriorating and could disrupt the busy inland waterway traffic. They assert that the series of river locks has aided wildlife and the environment rather than being harmful. The existing locks also are described as too small for safety and the avoidance of river congestion.

Congress has approved the replacement but the suit is delaying a call for construction bids.

Taxes distributed; ease pressure on agencies

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City Township Collector Nick Petrillo has distributed $3,700,000 in local taxes to the township's seven taxing districts and plans to continue collections locally until mid-September, he announced today.

Petrillo said his distribution at this time was made to assist local taxing bodies financially at a time when their funding ability is at its lowest. He has been collecting taxes through his office in the city hall and through the Granite City banks since he received the township tax collector's books from the county treasurer on June 25.

Granite City taxpayers were billed this year for payment of $12,791,806. On this basis, the amount distributed by Petrillo, who also is city treasurer of Granite City, represents about 25 percent of the total tax billed for payment this year.

Petrillo said he had originally intended to make local tax collections for 60 days until Aug. 25, but that he has talked with County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus and obtained permission to retain the books for an additional 20 days. This will extend the local tax collection until mid-September, he said.

In addition to the $3.7 million in taxes distributed last week, the Granite City Housing Authority has paid the collector $25,649 as payment in lieu of taxes. These funds also have been distributed proportionately to taxing bodies in the township, Petrillo said.

The largest share of the $3.7 million distribution, a total of $2,943,243 was given to Granite City School District 9, Petrillo said.

The city of Granite City received $798,378 and the county was allotted $201,621. The Metro-East Sanitary District received $182,702 and the Granite City Park District was given $132,972. Belleville Area College District received $102,943.

Petrillo said he will make additional distributions as tax funds come in during the local collection period.

Local tax collections also are under way by Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau Township collectors.

School pay challenged

Paychecks of a Granite City High School North attendance clerk will be challenged at tomorrow night's Board of Education meeting by a board member, David Partney.

Partney said he has obtained legal advice that it is a conflict for there to be a board member and a school employee within the same family.

In a letter to School Treasurer Steve Salitch, Partney asserted:

"It has been brought to my attention that we may have a possible legal clarification situation in our school district, so at this time I must demand of you as treasurer of the school district to cease and desist from issuing any further checks to Mrs. Cecelia Stucke, an employee of the school district, and the wife of a board member and president of our school district, Mr. Donald Stucke.

"There appears to be a violation of Section 3 of Chapter 102 of the Illinois Revised Statutes in that Mr. Donald Stucke has an indirect interest in the employment contract of Mrs. Cecelia Stucke," Partney said.

He has forwarded carbon copies to Iowa Kemper Insurance Co., Mason City, Iowa, regarding Bond BSM282422, and to B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, and Nicholas J. Byron, state's attorney of Madison County.

Fuel cost halts taxicab drivers

Taxicab service in Granite City was halted Friday as drivers of the Checker Cab Co., the city's only cab company, walked off their jobs to protest failure by the City Council to approve an increase in cab fares.

Vernon McIntyre, operator of the cab firm, said the drivers told him they would be willing to go back to work when a higher fare schedule is approved.

McIntyre said 14 cab drivers are involved in the walkout, although "several men stayed with me to handle emergency calls and to handle deliveries that we make for local firms."

He said his firm transports blood for the medical center and delivers messages and other articles for business establishments in addition to the regular operation of carrying cab passengers.

The walkout developed after the City Council failed last week to give final passage to an ordinance providing a 55-cent fare hike across the board in the first five travel zones.

Some council members said they would not vote in favor of the fare increase unless improvements were made in the cab equipment and to the company's office on Rock Road near the railroad tracks. One alderman also reported that he had heard the cab company had begun using the proposed higher fare schedule before the council

Decision on SIU's chancellor tomorrow

Southern Illinois University's Board of Trustees has called a special public meeting Tuesday at SIU at Carbondale to appoint a chancellor to head the SIU system.

Board Chairman Harris Rowe of Jacksonville has set the session for 4:30 p.m. at the Student Center, Ballroom B.

The appointment will cap a search that began in February when the university's trustees revamped the SIU system governing apparatus. Presidents of the two main campuses — SIU at Carbondale and SIU at Edwardsville — will report to the new chief executive, who will report to the board.

By June, the trustees and a two-campus Chancellor Search Assistance Council had narrowed the field of candidates to four finalists:

Donald C. Swan, academic vice-president of the University of California system; Durward Long, vice-president for academic affairs of the University of Hawaii system; Kenneth A. Shaw, president of SIU at Edwardsville; and Clyde J. Wingfield, executive vice-president for academic affairs at the University of Miami, Fla.

Tuesday's appointment will go to one of the four, Rowe said.

A new wave of speculation that Dr. Shaw will be the choice was denied Friday by a spokesman, who said the board has given no hints.

Members of the search committee are to meet in executive session with Rowe 30 minutes before the public session. The search meeting will be in the Student Center Vermillion Room.

The board's architectural and design committee has scheduled an open meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the SIUC campus office of Acting Chancellor James M. Brown.

A press conference with the new chancellor will be held at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the Student Center.

Mounds to be 'rediscovered'

The Cahokia Mounds Museum Society will sponsor a one-day open house at the Cahokia Mounds Historic Site west of Collinsville in Madison County on Saturday, Aug. 4, from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"Rediscover Cahokia" will offer visitors the opportunity to explore the mysteries of ancient American Indian cultures which have baffled scientists since Illinois first was settled.

Visitors will be taken by bus throughout the grounds of what once was the largest city in North America, covering six square miles. Its population is believed to have numbered in the tens of thousands.

Archaeologists will lead the bus tours and explain present excavations and what they hope to discover.

Visitors will be welcome to climb atop 104-foot-high Mounds Mound for a spectacular view of the countryside. The mound is the largest earthen Indian mound north of Mexico, and once was the site where numerous ancient ceremonies were held.

Arts and craft demonstrations, slide presentations, artifact exhibits and interpretive Indian dancing by the Cahokia Mounds Indian Dancers and the Kahok Dancers will be presented throughout the day.

Crafts will include flintknapping (making of flint tools), beadwork, pottery making, finger and loom weaving, and quilling.

Educational films also will be shown and will include "The Early Americans," "The Indian and the Deer," and "The Indian and the Deer."

Free refreshments will be served during the day and picnic areas will be available for families wishing to bring lunches.

For more information, Quad-Cityans may contact the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society at 344-5298, or write: Cahokia Mounds Museum, 7550 Collinsville Road, East St. Louis 62201.

The Lighter Side

Mysteries of the stereo world

I set out one day in search of new stereo equipment for my home. I knew the moment I walked into the stereo store that I was in trouble.

There are at least 9,000 brands and-or varieties of stereo receivers. I was totally lost among shelf after shelf of stuff I knew absolutely nothing about. A salesman walked up and asked if he could help me. Not wanting to sound TOO stupid, I asked if he carried a certain model. (I knew the name and model number of only that one receiver, but I hoped he wouldn't realize that.)

I could tell right away that

I wasn't fooling him when the salesman told me that the model I'd asked about had gone out of production in 1964.

I began to worry. I asked him about a belt driven turntable. "Oh, you don't want one of THOSE old-fashioned things," he said.

Now I don't want to date myself, but the last time I was involved in buying stereo equipment, all I was concerned about was the style of the cabinet. These days, components are in, and cabinets are practically unheard of.

None of the stuff I saw was cheap. And what was reasonable wasn't good, or so I figured, I had no idea. I was at the mercy of the salesman, and he knew it. He showed me some pretty fancy toys. One thingamajig, called an equalizer, did all sorts of neat stuff. You could change the music all around with the thing, providing you knew what you were doing.

I passed on that, figuring that it would take me at least three months to figure out how to turn it on. He showed me the difference between the "old fashioned" belt drive turntable and the new fangled direct drive model. Naturally, there was also a difference in the price. But it made sense to me. I bought the direct drive.

Fun stuff, this stereo buying. I wound up with a decent system, but my insurance payments are going to go up, way up.

As I looked at the entire system I had just bought, I asked the salesman if I had bought good stuff.

He assured me that I had—and told me that if I found out differently, I could come back to the store and slug him.

Funny. Ha Ha. I looked him right in the eye and declared, "If that happens, I'll do a lot worse than slug you."

Only time will tell.

acted on the ordinance. Because of what council members described as a quite large number of complaints from their constituents, the council placed the fare hike ordinance on its first reading instead of final passage. This means the aldermen will not have another opportunity to act on the ordinance until Aug. 7, the council's next meeting, even if they should decide to do so.

After the fare hike bill was placed on first reading last week, the aldermen approved a motion by Alderman Paul J. Bowler of the Seventh Ward that the council not approve the bill until the cab company had "cleaned up its operation."

At the same time, the council instructed Chief of Police Veizer to notify the cab company that it was not authorized to use the higher fee schedule until the ordinance was enacted.

McIntyre told the Press-Record that Veizer called him to the police chief's office and told him the cab firm would have to cut back to the old fare schedule until the ordinance was enacted.

"When I went back and called in the drivers and told them we would have to drop the higher fare, they just said they were leaving and would be back when the fares are increased."

"Maybe we did jump the gun a little in charging the fees," McIntyre said. "But it seemed a sure thing since the ordinance was prepared and the raise in fares had been recommended to the council after a meeting with them (the fare committee)."

"I'm not trying to be difficult about this, but it's a matter of survival with us. With higher fares and gasoline prices, the men are not able to make a decent income."

McIntyre said his firm has seven cabs on the street, with 14 drivers handling around-the-clock shifts. He said the drivers receive 50 percent of their gross take during a shift and are required to buy their own gasoline.

Citing as an example one cab driver who worked a 12-hour shift last week, McIntyre noted the driver took in a gross of $88. The driver received only half of that, or $38, but his gasoline bill was $16, the cab company operator said.

As for complaints concerning equipment and the cab company office, McIntyre said they are welcome to look over the premises and that equipment could and would be improved if it were possible to make a "reasonable" income on the cab operation.

"I had planned to buy six cars," he said, noting that it costs him a minimum of $2,500 to place a cab in operation, even by buying second-hand cars. High gasoline prices have cut into the income of the drivers considerably.

The cab fare increase was recommended to the council a month ago by Alderman Roy Poulos as chairman of the traffic committee. The recommendation followed a conference between the committee and McIntyre.

McIntyre explained the need of higher fares at that time and a majority of council members appeared to agree with the need of an increase.

The ordinance as presented last week raised the fee from a minimum of $1.15 to $1.50 in the first zone of travel, with subsequent 35-cent increases in the remaining four travel zones to a maximum fare of $2.50 in the fifth zone.

GC woman abducted and raped

A 42-year-old Delmar Avenue woman was beaten and abducted from the parking lot of the Long Branch Tavern, 2105 Grand Ave., about 2 a.m. Saturday and was driven into the county where she was raped, she told police.

The woman said she became acquainted with two men in the tavern during the evening and the three of them went outside at closing time.

One man pulled her behind some weeds at the edge of the parking lot and struck her several times, causing an abrasion above her right eye and scratches to her neck, she reported.

She then was ordered into a dark blue or green two-door auto with a white top and white interior, possibly a 1968 to 1970 Chevrolet, and one man drove her into the county, police were told.

The victim was not certain, but thought she might have been near the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge. The other man she had been talking to in the tavern arrived later, but did not take part in the rape, she said. He was described as about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 165 pounds and having dark collar length hair.

The man who raped her was thin and tall, she said. He drove her to her home about 6 a.m. Saturday and she called the Madison County Sheriff's Department, it was reported.

2 thrown from cycle

Robert McCord, 24, of 2215 Benton St., and Miss Janet Pembie, 22, of 2290 block of Benton Street, were injured when their motorcycle struck a parking block behind the Kroger Food Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 10:55 a.m. Sunday.

Police measured about 164 feet of skid marks from the cycle before it struck the concrete parking block. Both McCord, who was driving, and Miss Pembie, who was a passenger, were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was admitted with abrasions to his chest, arms, legs and face.

She suffered abrasions to her chest, right leg, right hip and arm and was released after X-rays and treatment.

Danny R. Poe, 20, of 2433 Logan St., was charged with state charges of unlawful use of a weapon and disorderly conduct and with failure to have a firearm owner's identification card after he was arrested near West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue last week.

Neighbors reported a man with a shotgun was threatening people near a tavern at that location. When officers arrived, they alleged Poe was standing beside a car, pushing something underneath the auto with his foot. A loaded shotgun and pistol were found near his feet, police alleged. During booking, two shotgun shells allegedly were found in Poe's clothing, it was reported.

Officers also said they saw a man drinking beer beside the tavern and arrested William J. Brannan, 23, of 2102 Nevada Ave., who was charged with public consumption of alcohol.

Two hours after Poe was arrested, police found him hanging in his jail cell with his shirt tied around his neck and tied to the top of the cell, it was reported. He was helped down and declined medical treatment, police said.

Vote result on textbooks unchanged by board canvass

By VALERIE EVENDEN

of the Press-Record

Canvassing of the July 21 referendum which approved repeal of free textbooks in the Venice School District, plus setting book fees, hiring new faculty members and adoption of a resolution authorizing the sale of $223,000 in working cash fund bonds were important business items almost postponed Thursday night at a meeting of the Venice Board of Education.

The board members present were unable to start the 7 p.m. meeting when a quorum of elected school officials failed to appear.

Concentrated efforts by Board President Jack Tolliver, Board Secretary Wilbert Glasper and Board Member Earl Hogan, augmented with telephone calls made by Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers and District Treasurer Donald Phillips, produced two additional members of the board at 8:12 p.m. and a third member five minutes later, enabling the business process to commence.

In canvassing the special election results that abolished the practice of providing free textbooks to Venice students, tallies showed a discrepancy of five votes in the unofficial figures published earlier.

In Precinct One, covering an area within the Venice city limits, 42 votes were cast to repeal free textbooks, and eight votes were cast against.

The change in figures appeared in Precinct Two, located in Eagle Park Acres, the unincorporated area, where 20 votes were cast against abolishing free textbooks, five votes were for the proposition and four ballots were spoiled.

Discontinuing issuance of free textbooks was approved by a total vote of 47 for the proposal and 28 votes against repeal.

The vote was the lightest to be cast on a school issue in recent years.

The Venice district has furnished free textbooks for 40 years, the program having been approved by referendum in 1938.

The board approved a fee schedule for textbook rentals, recommended by Supt. Vickers.

Pupils in kindergarten and special education programs will pay $8 per year; first through eighth students will pay $12 per year; and the charge to high school students will be $16 annually.

The board also approved lunch price increases of five cents for student lunches and 25 cents for adult lunches.

The new costs to pupils will be 40 cents for first through third grades; 45 cents, fourth through sixth grades; and 50 cents for seventh through twelfth grades.

Adults will pay $1 each.

Supt. Vickers noted that 70 percent or more children in the Venice School District qualify to receive free lunches, or pay a nominal fee of only 15 cents.

A total of $64,500 is budgeted in the 1979-80 appropriation listing, with anticipated revenue at $68,000, but the budgeted amount does not reflect utility charges, equipment replacement and supplemental service costs, among other items, he said.

The only bid in reference to supplying the district with eggs next year was received from Range Poultry, the current supplier, which agreed to provide Grade A large eggs at 70 cents per dozen and was awarded the contract.

Prairie Farms Dairy was the sole bidder to provide milk and was granted a contract on quoted prices averaging 12 cents per half pint, an increase of almost two cents a half pint over the last school year.

It was agreed to retain Manchester Life Insurance Co. for student-faculty standard insurance at fees of $7 and $8 for kindergarten through eighth grades; and $11 and $12 for high school students and faculty.

Twenty-four-hour coverage rates will be $30.

The board hired Ricky Allen Everage of Alton as a health-physical education teacher and Mrs. JoAnn Aleman of Granite City as the social studies-English teacher.

Hired as elementary level teachers were Ann Millins, Christine Wallace and Steven Neely.

Supt. Vickers noted that Neely and Miss Mullins worked in the school district last year as non-tenure faculty members and Miss Wallace was employed as a substitute teacher two years ago.

Approval was granted to John Tackeberry, a sixth grade teacher, and Linda Cottrell, a fifth grade teacher, to transfer to the Title VII program in the new school year.

Requests from three other teachers wanting reassignment to the same program were turned down on the grounds, "their services are required or they are too valuable in their current positions."

Board members agreed to cancel the regular Aug. 9 meeting, convening next on Aug. 23, when a public hearing and adoption of the 1979-80 budget will constitute the principal business.

10-year working cash bonds for school system in Venice

By VALERIE EVENDEN

of the Press-Record

The next step in an all-out effort to alleviate the dismal financial problems of Venice School District 3 was taken Thursday night by members of the board of education who adopted a resolution authorizing the issuance of $223,000 in working cash fund bonds.

The resolution also confirmed the sale of the bonds to Columbian Securities, Inc. of Chicago, bearing an interest rate of 7 1/2 percent per annum over a 10-year period, beginning Jan. 1, 1981, through Jan. 1, 1991.

The general obligation bonds to be repaid through a tax levy, established by the county clerk, may not exceed an aggregate 75 percent of taxes permitted to be levied for educational purposes for the current year, amounting to 2.65 percent of the assessed valuation.

The latest assessed valuation of taxable property in the Venice School District is $11,792,382, and the maximum educational tax rate applicable is 2.65 percent of such assessed value, the resolution states.

On June 6, the Venice School Board adopted a resolution declaring its intention to issue working cash fund bonds.

It was noted a petition containing 110 signatures was filed June 14 at the Venice board office requesting that the question of issuing the working cash fund bonds be submitted to district voters.

The number of signatures on the petition, however, was less than 20 percent of the total number of district voters and the question of whether to issue the bonds was left to a decision by the Venice board.

Upon the advice of the Illinois School Consultants firm, retained by the district to help resolve its financial problems, the board adopted a resolution abolishing the original working cash fund with a $500,000 debt, mostly owing to other district funds, on May 23.

This action enabled the district to establish a new fund and sell working cash fund bonds in lieu of issuing additional anticipation warrants.

Third arrest in Schooley stabbing

A third and final suspect in the nearly-fatal stabbing of John O. Schooley, 24, of 2620 E. 27th St., was taken into custody Thursday afternoon.

Larry Eugene McKenzie, 28, Highland, a former Granite City resident, was arrested at American Car Foundries, St. Louis, about 2 p.m. Thursday by Granite City detectives, aided by officers from the St. Louis Police, Third District.

Detectives said they learned McKenzie was employed at the foundries and went to see if he was at work, since a warrant had been obtained for his arrest. When they found he was working, they summoned the St. Louis police to help serve the warrant.

McKenzie remains in St. Louis while proper paperwork to return him to Illinois is completed. He has agreed to waive extradition proceedings, police said.

Warrants charge him and two men who were taken into custody last week with attempted murder, aggravated battery and armed violence.

Already in the Madison County Jail are John E. Ashburn, 26, of 208 Watson Lane, Mitchell, and Dennis McIntosh, 27, French Village. The bond is $250,000 for each, but Ashburn also has a $500 bond on a charge of driving on an expired driver's license.

Officers alleged he was in an auto when he was arrested at his home.

Schooley is recuperating well from five stab wounds to his body and neck suffered when he was assaulted by three men in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant, Nameoki Road at Madison Avenue, the early morning hours of Saturday, July 21.

He was under intensive care at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for two days, but now is in a regular patient room and may be released today, officials said.

Tennis pros start at an early age . . .

Little Chris Everts all, someday.

For the 6 and 7 year old girls taking lessons through the Granite City Park District, all things are possible. Who's to say that the backhand won't develop and the serve go from a weak bounce to a 90 mph killer ace?

Even if those things don't happen, the youngsters in the program are trying, and having a good time doing it. And that's the whole idea, anyway.

What the little ones lack in skill, they make up for in intestinal fortitude. They are not afraid to try anything on the tennis court. Their stance may be a little rough and their delivery a little wild, but they are willing to work.

Tennis is a tough game for little kids. For one thing, the racquet is heavy—and swinging it level is hard to do when you have trouble lifting it.

Forehand shots are a little easier to learn at age six than the backhand. The youngsters are encouraged to use two hands to steady the racquet, which in some cases is as long as the child is tall.

Instructors Alan Davenport and Laura Gabriel are concentrating their teaching efforts for the youngest class on the very basics.

The kids don't do much in the first session with serving. Rather they learn how to hold the racquet and do a few shots.

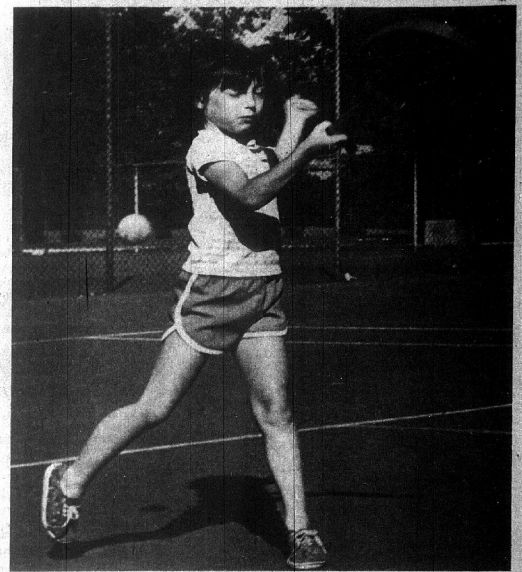

Some of the youngsters tend to forget the old "keep your eye on the ball" rule. Those are the ones you will find closing their eyes as the ball comes toward their area of the court. It's sort of an "if you can't see it, it can't hurt you" idea.

According to Davenport, there were lots of the little ones signed up for the free lessons. But as the class progressed, some dropped out.

Davenport feels that what they have at this point is a small, enthusiastic group of kids who are really interested in the game.

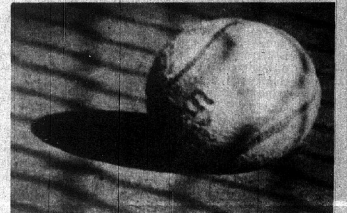

Why tennis? There are as many reasons as there are youngsters.

For little Christine Mills, the answer was simple: "My daddy plays tennis."

Is the next Chris Evert in this group?

Court changes pension rules for illegitimate children

"Illegitimate" children of deceased Civil Service employees or members of Congress from throughout the country are now eligible for survivor annuity benefits on the same basis as other surviving children, as the result of a recent federal court decision in the District of Columbia. Between 10,000 and 22,000 children are affected by the court's ruling. Many of them are now eligible for benefits of at least $135 per month. A provision of the Civil Service survivor annuity law, which restricted survivor benefits to those "illegitimate" children who were "living with" their Civil Service parent at the time of the parent's death, has been declared unconstitutional. Judge Charles R. Richey of the District of Columbia federal district court ruled that all "illegitimate" children whose Civil Service parent died on or after Feb. 24, 1972, are entitled to back ("retroactive") benefits which the Office of Personnel Management (formerly, the Civil Service Commission) improperly denied them. While the government has appealed the court's decision and has gone to the Supreme Court on a similar case, Judge Richey ordered that some of the children in the nationwide class action must receive benefits immediately. Under the court's recent order, children whose Civil Service parent died after February, 1972 and who were 18 years of age or younger as of Dec. 1, 1977, may be entitled to current and future benefits now.

Persons who think they may be eligible for benefits or who know about children who may be eligible for benefits are to call the Office of Personnel Management in Chicago, 219 S. Dearborn St., Chicago 60604.

Drug arrest

Steve Simpson, 23, of 3009 Edgewood Ave., was arrested last week by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) and Granite City police officers and was charged with unlawful delivery of three pounds of marijuana to an undercover agent.

In what was described as a "buy bust," a MEGSI agent agreed to purchase the marijuana from Simpson and the transaction was to occur in the parking lot of Hoppe's Tavern, Nameoki and Edwardsville roads, it was alleged.

According to MEGSI Executive Director Richard Woods, Simpson fought when the agent announced he was under arrest and Simpson bit the agent. The agent also was poked in the eye and was struck before police arrived to aid in the arrest, it was alleged.

The agent also alleged Simpson ordered his dog to attack the agent and it was necessary to shoot the dog, wounding it. The undercover agent required emergency room treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after the arrest was completed.

Authorities allege Simpson had a large bag containing three smaller one-pound bags of marijuana which he was attempting to sell the MEGSI officer. Simpson's bond was set at $50,000 and he was released after posting $5,000 cash bond.

10% of campaign donations returned

Alan J. Dixon, a Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, has given his reasoning for returning $135,885 that he received in contributions for his 1978 secretary of state campaign. Announcement of the refunds was disclosed in Thursday's Press-Record.

"This money was given in good faith for secretary of state, and it is in the same spirit of good faith that I am returning it now that I am running for the Senate," Dixon said.

"I would never want anyone for a moment to think that I would accept campaign contributions for secretary of state and then turn around and use that same money in my race for the Senate."

"We will send out 9,888 checks to individuals who contributed between July 17, 1977, when I announced for re-election, and April 2, 1979, when I announced my candidacy for the Senate."

"The $135,000 remaining in my secretary of state campaign account represents 10 percent of the total contributions received."

"Consequently, the checks I am mailing will represent 10 percent of the total individual contributed to my campaign," he explained. Dixon was the first statewide Democratic candidate to disclose the names of all his contributors, regardless of the amount given.

"I have always believed in full campaign disclosure and in will continue this practice of complete openness in my Senate campaign," he added.

GRAND CAFE THEFT

About $100 in assorted change is the only thing known missing after a burglary at the Grand Cafe, 1413 Twentieth St., which was discovered Thursday. The money had been hidden in a white plastic container, police were told. Vent pipes in the kitchen were pulled down and two knives were found in the tray of the cigarette vending machine, but there were no signs the machine had been tampered with. Police could find no evidence of forced entry.

BIRDS OF THUNDER, six T-38A Talons, flown by the U.S. Air Force precision aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds. They will perform at the Scott AFB open house Aug. 18. The Thunderbirds have used the Talon since 1974; at one time, the Talon held 12 world records. The T-38 has been slightly modified for demonstration aerobatics. Modifications include the addition of a non-polluting smoke system which injects oil into the plane's exhaust, causing the oil to vaporize and form a white smoke trail. Because of the Talon's low fuel consumption, the operating costs are among the lowest of any supersonic jet in the Air Force inventory.

Ambulance cost to double

By HARRY BARNES

of the Press-Record

Because of new guidelines of the federal Manpower program, the monthly payroll cost of Granite City's Ambulance Service will more than double after Oct. 1 this year. Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's ambulance service committee, has warned City Council members.

Payroll costs of the ambulance service, the alderman said, will jump from its present $11,279 per month to $22,999 monthly for the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year after Oct. 1 because the Manpower Program, after that date, will no longer pay $10,000 per year of salaries for emergency medical technicians.

New Manpower guidelines that are to become effective Sept. 28 eliminate any subsidized payments for salaries. This ruling will affect the present pay schedule of 14 Granite City EMTs who now receive $10,000 per year of their salary from the Manpower Program and the balance of their $13,284 annual salary from the city.

Fire Chief Don Parente said the ambulance service which is operated by the city fire department now has 20 EMTs. Six of these already receive their full salaries from the city.

In reporting to the council, Whitmer told the aldermen that they should be considering now how the city is going to meet the added cost, noting:

"The ambulance service is doing well, but it is not self sustaining and I doubt that it ever will be. We should begin thinking about how we are going to pay these additional salaries."

Whitmer said the monthly payroll cost of the ambulance service now totals $11,279, or $135,348 per year in funds paid by the city. This includes five EMTs receiving their full salary of $1,104 monthly from the city, one EMT receiving his full salary of $1,049 from the city, 14 EMTs receiving $270 per month from the city and one clerk receiving a full salary of $919 per month.

After Oct. 1, however, the payroll will increase to $22,080 per month in full salaries paid to 20 EMTs and the salary of $919 paid to the clerk, for a total of $22,999 per month or $275,988 per year.

Parente emphasized that the city will need to make up only seven months of salaries now being paid by the Manpower program during the remainder of the city's fiscal year. The fiscal year begins May 1 and ends April 30.

Since partial salaries for EMTs will continue this year until Oct. 1, there will be seven months of the fiscal year remaining when it becomes necessary for the city to pick up the full tab for the EMT salaries.

Parente said the funds necessary to pay the salaries for that period have been included in this year's budget.

Some additional expense in operation of the ambulance service is anticipated after Jan. 1 when the fire department hopes to initiate its new paramedic service.

Parente said last week that he has conferred with authorities at St. Elizabeth

Medical Center concerning the new service and that steps to install the necessary equipment are expected to be taken soon.

2 charged with painting on new GC police station

Michael L. Stewart, 17, of 906 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with criminal damage to state supported property after he allegedly spray painted "GC Pig Sty '79" on the east side of the new Granite City Police Building on Madison Avenue at 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

Edward A. Knowles, 17, of 2806 State St., was arrested later his home and was charged with criminal damage to property for allegedly participating in the scheme to paint the new building. Police allege Knowles was the driver and was to help Stewart escape, if he was seen.

Don Ballard of Granite City told police he and members of his family were depositing a letter in the mailbox in front of the main post office when they saw a youth painting on the police building outside wall.

Ballard walked up to the youth while Ballard's wife drove around to the other side of the building to alert police.

When Ballard approached the youth, he ran across Madison Avenue toward Grand Avenue where a car with no headlights approached him. Ballard continued the chase and the youth grabbed onto the door handle of the car, but the driver apparently decided Ballard was too close and sped up, dragging the youth beside the car, until he dropped off.

The car sped away and the youth ran until Ballard caught him at 24th Street and Grand Avenue, police were told. Officers arrived and arrested the youth, alleged to be Stewart.

After questioning him, officers went to Knowles' home and arrested him.

270 of growing importance to this community, region

There is much interest here in the eventual route of Interstate 270—alternate locations are being studied for a section extending more than two miles—because of its proximity to the Quad-Cities.

Either alignment will have interchanges with Highway 35 (Granite City-Collinsville road) and Illinois Route 162. Hearings are being conducted, informally July 26 and formally Aug. 23, to help establish the final route. Site acquisition may still be two years away, but once the detailed construction drawings are started, the site decision will be final.

Line F, the route closest to the Quad-Cities, may be superior for several reasons. Its cost estimate is roughly similar and it would displace only five homes and one business to Line E's residential and three business displacements. F would be the shortest circumferential distance for 270, although the SIUE connection would be slightly longer than the university's connecting link for Line E.

Regardless of which alternate is chosen, the completion of Interstate 270 will be a big plus for this metropolitan region and for the Quad-City area.

It is near Horseshoe Lake, and the part of the route already decided is immediately adjacent to the eastern edge of the Arlington golf course. Both alternate segments intersect present 270 a short distance east of its intersection with Route 111, west of Road 157.

The hearings serve as a reminder of this community's ideal location within and immediately outside the circle of 270. Interstate 270 is marked on the Missouri side by major residential, commercial, industrial and office developments at nearly every cloverleaf intersection.

Especially now that the two university campuses are being completed in Nameok and Chouteau townships and 1-270 is moving into its final phases, increased attention needs to be given to making the most of this important highway route and its convenient links to the Quad-Cities and Madison County.

Dr. Shaw ideal choice for SIUE chancellor position

Speculation that Kenneth Shaw will be chosen as chancellor of Southern Illinois University is heartening to friends of SIUE at Edwardsville.

The newly-created job is positioned at the top of the university's administrative structure, dealing directly with the Board of Trustees. Presidents of the local and Carbondale universities will report to the chancellor (a "pecking order," incidentally, that is the reverse of the president-chancellors relationship at the University of Illinois).

Residents of this area are somewhat comfortable with the immediate outlook, assuming that Dr. Shaw is chosen, in that he is familiar with the educational requirements and other needs of this region. Born in Granite City and reared in Edwardsville, he is currently the SIUE president.

All four finalists for chancellor have excellent credentials in terms of training and experience. Aside from his direct knowledge of one of the two campuses, Dr. Shaw also had more experience at the top level rather than occupying the No. 2 campus administrative position. Also, at 40, he is nearly a decade younger than the three out-of-state finalists.

A continuing belief here is that the two SIUE universities, serving differing functions and located 100 miles apart, can be adequately administered by a single individual only if that person is unusually gifted, informed and energetic.

Dr. Shaw may be the ideal rare individual who can fill such a demanding role, but for his successors over the years it could prove to be an impossibility, reviving the momentum toward autonomy for SIUE and SIUC.

Toffant advocates more unmarked cars

Fewer obvious patrol cars and more unmarked autos for sheriff's deputies is to be the thrust of a program to be initiated by the Madison County Sheriff's Department when new cars are purchased in the future.

Sheriff Emil Toffant told members of the Crime Prevention Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon that he feels he made a mistake in leasing marked squad cars with light bars on top in the latest round of leasing of cars and plans to replace nearly all the marked cars in the county with unmarked cars.

with an unmarked car in the future.

"Our job is to protect the people and prevent crime in the rural areas. We do not need big light bars on top of our cars announcing our arrival a block away from that. 'Light bars and flashing lights are for traffic control and deputies do not do much of that. We are not traffic specialists,'" Toffant said. He told the committee his long-range goal is to replace almost every marked squad car in the county with unmarked cars, equipped with an interior portable flashing red light.

Hiriam Viessman is killed in Missouri

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the church in Brinkton, Mo., for Hiriam Viessman, 28, of Granite City, who was shot and killed in Poplar Bluff, Mo., Tuesday night. He is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence (Lena) Viessman, 2921 Saratoga Ave.

Police in Poplar Bluff said Mr. Viessman was shot after he allegedly robbed an IGA Foodliner in that town just before it was to close Tuesday night. He wore a rubber Halloween mask, aviator's cap and gloves and carried an M-1 rifle, according to investigating officers.

Douglas Snider, 26, son of the owner of the grocery, arrived outside just as Mr. Viessman left the store and fired one shot from a hunting rifle, striking Mr. Viessman in the back, it was reported. Authorities said Mr. Viessman apparently died instantly.

An accomplice who was waiting in a stolen pickup truck for Mr. Viessman left in the truck and is being sought. Snider fired one shot at the truck, but failed to stop it, police said. Police found the truck had been stolen 30 minutes earlier. It was abandoned across the highway from the food liner and the driver fled on foot, eluding officers.

A coroner's jury in Butler County, Mo., ruled Thursday the death was by justifiable homicide.

Mr. Viessman's body was taken to a Vienna, Mo., funeral home where visitation was held Friday evening.

New boiler for city hall

A contract for installation of a new boiler in the city hall was awarded by the Granite City Council last week to Triangle Heating Co. on a bid of $13,309.

The contract was awarded on a recommendation by City Engineer Monroe Brewer who told the council the amount bid was less than that budgeted and that the offer meets all specifications.

The work, to be financed with federal revenue sharing funds, is to get under way soon and is to be completed before the fall heating season, Brewer said.

Hospital Notes

Veterans may switch to improved pension plan

A recent increase of nearly 10 percent in some Veterans Administration pension rates may prompt some veterans to take another look at the "improved" VA pension plan passed last year by Congress.

VA said the rate increase under the newest VA pension program is tied directly to increases in Social Security payments. The later were raised 9.9 percent as of June 1, 1979.

Nearly 432,000 veterans have asked the VA to switch their pensions to the "improved" plan.

And VA reminded eligible veterans who haven't made up their minds whether to "stay put" or switch that they have only until Oct. 1 to qualify for retroactive benefits.

The improved plan offers substantially higher pension rates than the old program, but changes in some income counted under the new plan may make it advisable for certain veterans to remain under their current plan.

In establishing the improved pension plan, Congress stipulated that veterans may switch to it at any time, but must do so before Oct. 1 if they wish the higher rates it provides to take effect retroactively to Jan. 1, 1979.

VA pensions are based on income and go to eligible wartime veterans who are permanently and totally disabled from causes not traceable to their service, and who are in financial need.

Pensions are also paid to certain needy survivors of wartime veterans.

Under the new pension rates, a single veteran may receive a maximum pension of $3,902 a year, up from $2,364.

Because certain income that is ignored under the old plan is counted in computing eligibility for the improved plan, VA said some veterans will be better off not to switch plans.

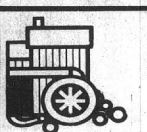

In cases where it is not to the veteran's advantage to elect the new program, VA has been advising them to remain under the old pension program.

Drive to balance the federal budget may put squeeze on revenue sharing

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Illinois and other states relying heavily on revenue sharing face the gloomy prospect that this may be the last year they have any source of stringless federal funds.

Federal revenue sharing, when enacted in 1972, was the centerpiece of then President Richard Nixon's domestic program.

The idea was that the federal government should return to the states and local governments a share of the federal income taxes they send to Washington, which should not dictate how it is spent.

Republicans throughout the land hailed this as the greatest thing since Mom's apple pie.

It was a GOP program that even the Democrats could buy, since it pumped federal funds back into state and local coffers, easing local tax burdens.

The program today costs about $7 billion, with $2.3 billion going to state governments and the balance distributed among cities, counties and townships.

In Illinois, the state gets about $14 million, all of which is channeled into aid to education. Double that amount is distributed among the local governments in Illinois.

But now Mom's apple pie is souring.

It nearly was thrown out this year when the House several times voted to delete the states' share from the revenue sharing appropriation bill for the 1980 fiscal year which begins Oct. 1, 1979.

The program was granted a reprieve by a House-Senate conference committee.

The threat was real, so real that Gov. James Thompson came here several times to speak in support of revenue sharing on behalf of the National Governors' Association.

But the threat is even more serious next year, when Congress will have to decide whether or not to reauthorize the program.

"I think it is going to be a real fight, tougher than ever before," said Gayle Cozens, new director of the State of Illinois office in Washington.

"I would have bet that we got revenue sharing this year. I would not take a bet on next year."

Cozens expects that, as with this year, state revenue sharing and not the funds for the local governments will be the prime target.

It is already under fire from all directions.

President Carter campaigned on a pledge to eliminate revenue sharing, but kept funds for the program in the 1980 budget. Cozens does not expect to see the money there in Mr. Carter's next budget.

James McIntyre, director of the president's Office of Management and Budget, recently assured the nation's governors that the administration has made no decision on revenue sharing's future.

But Cozens said she does not feel "that answer carries any weight."

The program is coming under attack for a variety of reasons.

The most often stated reason is that the federal government should not abdicate its responsibility to control its funds—that it should not dispend them to the states without mandating how they should be used.

But the real burn under the saddle of many congressmen is that they are being rapped for not balancing the federal budget while some states are using revenue sharing funds to build surpluses in their own coffers.

It is a feeling that is aggravated by state initiatives for a constitutional convention to consider a mandatory balanced federal budget amendment if Congress will not do the job itself.

And, there are those in Congress and the executive branch who would like to see the federal funds used for their own pet programs.

To help counter some of the animosity, Gov. Thompson plans to draw recommendations for cuts in federally funded state programs to demonstrate that the states are willing to sacrifice for the sake of austerity.

The idea is that if federal funds have to be cut, the states would rather have the training done in federally controlled programs rather than in the one source of federal tax dollars they can apply as they see fit.

Whether that approach will work is uncertain.

To be sure, revenue sharing still has its ardent supporters.

Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., remains one of the revenue sharing champions.

"Where else have you ever seen a federal program dispense $6.5 billion a year with less than $2 million in administrative costs and less than 300 employees?" he asks rhetorically. "And with no red tape, no paperwork to fill out and not a single scandal that I know of."

Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Ottawa, has signed on as a co-sponsor of a bill to reauthorize the program for four years.

Rep. George O'Brien, R-Joliet, says he "has not been beguiled away from it."

But Thompson cannot count on Illinois Republicans to stay with him on the issue.

Rep. Robert McClory, R-Lake Bluff, still likes the idea of local control over federal funds but says balancing the budget takes priority over other programs.

Like McClory, Rep. John

Erlenborn, R-Glen Ellyn, supported it in the past but is uncertain whether he will in the future. He wants to take a close look to see if some trimming is possible.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Pittsfield, has been on both sides of the fence. He opposed it initially, and he supported it when it was last reauthorized several years ago.

But his primary concern is inflation. Like McClory and Erlenborn, he says he views no program as sacrosanct, and is not sure how he will vote when the time comes next year.

Clearly, Thompson has his work cut out for him—and he will have to do more convincing in his own party.

Venice hearing on revenue fund budget Tuesday

A public hearing on proposed uses of federal revenue sharing funds received by the city of Venice will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the city hall prior to the regular City Council meeting.

The hearing will precede council action on its 1979-80 fiscal budget which must be passed prior to midnight Tuesday.

A projected budget for use of the federal funds has been set at $188,931, of which $106,600 is earmarked for payment of police department salaries.

The tentative budget subject to Tuesday night's hearing also sets $15,000 for senior citizen activities, $15,000 for ambulance service, $5,000 for street cleaning labor and $10,000 to demolish unsafe buildings.

Thompson to address GOP president forum

Don Adams, state chairman, Illinois Republican Party, has announced that the luncheon speaker for the presidential forum will be Governor James R. Thompson. The forum will be held this week by the state GOP.

Adams said, "We expect to have over 1,500 people attend the forum, and to have Gov. Thompson appear as the featured luncheon speaker Saturday is an honor. I know he welcomes this opportunity to be with so many strong supporters of the Republican Party."

The forum, co-sponsored by the state party and the Republican County Chairmen's Association, headed by Al Jourdan of McHenry County, will be held Friday and Saturday at the O'Hare Kennedy Holiday Inn near Chicago.

The candidates who will appear (in order of appearance) are: Congressman Phil Crane, Congressman John B. Anderson, former Governor John B. Connally, former Ambassador George Bush, former Governor Harold Hassen, Ben Fernandez and Senator Robert Dole.

Senator Howard Baker will attend should Senate business allow, and will speak last and be heard.

Youths arrested

Russell E. Jenkins, 18, who said he is staying at 4510 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with theft and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and a 15-year-old Kirkpatrick Homes boy arrested with Jenkins was charged with theft and a curfew violation at 1:25 a.m. Friday.

Police were told two youths were carrying auto batteries from the fenced-in area at Al's Auto Parts, 2512 Nameoki Road, and officers found two nearby who had dirty hands.

Two batteries were found hidden behind bushes at the Corner Liquor Store nearby and the youths allegedly admitted taking them from the auto parts store.

'Healthy back' exercise plan

The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced that a second "Y's Way To A Healthy Back" program will be starting on Monday, Sept. 15.

The Y's Way To A Healthy Back is a special exercise program for people who suffer back pain and discomfort. It is estimated that seven million Americans suffer from this at any one time.

The program is an integral part of the YMCA's Nationwide Cardiovascular Health Program. It has its own national committee of medical consultants who set policies and guidelines for program operation.

It also establishes and monitors program content of workshops that are held for the purpose of training YMCA personnel in conducting instructional classes.

The YMCA has 19 instructor-trainers located around the country to assist in the training process and in the national implementation of the program.

There are six major differences between the YMCA program and others offered to the American public, a spokesman said:

1. The "Y" uses the six item Kraus-Weber test to assess minimum muscular strength and flexibility of key postural muscles.

2. The program stresses relaxation.

3. It is progressive — there are six exercises at the very beginning (about 10 minutes). Exercises are added weekly and, by the end of the six-week program, participants will be performing 35 exercises (about 45 minutes).

4. The program avoids multi-repetition of exercises through eliminating muscular soreness and stiffness.

5. The program incorporates three distinct patterns of exercise involving relaxation, gentle muscle toning, and muscle stretching.

6. The exercises are conducted in classes which are limited to 15 participants.

The Y's Way To A Healthy Back program is a six-week program offered at many YMCAs and each participant is given exercise assignments to do at home on days when the class is not meeting.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS

By RUSS WALKER
The soldiers of ancient Rome favored rings with stones engraved with a figure of Mars, the Roman god of war. Carnelian stones were often set in iron. High ranking soldiers might wear silver but gold was reserved for generals.

Carnelian is one of the birthstones for those born in August. We can show you lovely rings set with these or other fine stones.

Alton's comeback ends Tri-City's season

THE END OF THE LINE. Tri-City center fielder-pitcher Mike DeGonia sits on the bench and reflects on the season that had ended moments earlier when his team dropped an 8-7 decision to Alton in the of a suspended game Thursday at Lewis & Clark Junior College in Godfrey. The win gave Alton the American Legion District 22 North Division championship.

By KEVIN ALLEN

GODFREY. Cars were still pulling into the parking lot outside the Godfrey Khoury League field, but they were late — an inning late.

If the late arrivals had come a half-hour earlier they would have seen Tri-City's American Legion baseball team ending its season as Alton scored in the bottom of the eighth for an 8-7 victory.

As it was, they saw only the result.

Tri-City's players walked slowly to their cars, the Alton players still celebrating the winning of the District 22 championship, slapped backs and talked loud.

A group of Tri-City players were quietly storing their equipment in the trunk of a car. It was the last time they would repeat this chore, one that has become familiar over a long summer.

The group consisted of third baseman Jeff Parker, pitcher Jeff Tretter, pitcher John Vrenick and catcher Mark Linhart. All were graduates this year from high school. None would be back for another season of Legion ball.

Tough way to end it, huh? "Yeah, it is," one of them said quietly.

"It really hurt not having Linhart in there," Tretter said. Linhart had been ejected from the game in the seventh inning, which took place two days earlier before rain had forced a 48-hour layoff. Steve Ficker allowed two passed balls in the eighth, putting the winning run on third.

"We're not taking anything away from Ficker, though," Parker quickly added. "There was a lot of pressure in that situation."

"Yeah, that was just the way it worked out," Vrenick said. "If Jim Thurman had fielded the ball it would have been a double play and ended the inning. The ball just got through though, and the run scored."

Is Alton the best team in the league, the group was asked. "No, the best team is either us or Edwardsville," Tretter said.

"This team doesn't have the pitching," Parker said. "The two days off really helped them."

At this point, the answers began to get shorter, the periods of silence longer.

What happened to the big lead you had in the first? Tretter: "We just sat on it. We weren't aggressive."

Neither rain, nor snow, nor dark of night could keep the teams from their appointed rounds in this weekend's Amateur Softball Association (ASA) Women's State Tournament in Collinsville.

There wasn't any snow over the weekend, but there was lots and lots of rain. Still, the teams played on. Despite a pouring rain Sunday and threats of flash flood warnings over the radio the teams kept at it while their fans maintained their vigil.

The game Sunday between the Belleville Whiz Kids and defending state champion East Peoria was a prime example. No one seemed to even notice the torrential rain pouring down. On one play, the Whiz Kids' second baseman dove for a ball in the goop in her formerly red and white uniform and still managed to throw the mud-splattered ball to first for the out.

Hecker, Ill. won the state championship Sunday night with a 5-2 victory over the Whiz Kids. Bill's Auto Body of Granite City was the highest placer from that city with a fifth-place finish. Bill's lost to East Peoria Sunday. Earlier it had beaten Rantoul (which placed seventh) 3-

Marissa finds out about Alton

GODFREY. Marissa found out not to push Alton into any extra-long games here Sunday when, after heating the host team 13-5 in a three-hour marathon, lost 7-2 in the rubber game of the three-game District 22 championship series. Alton won the first game Saturday in Marissa 6-2.

While the ball wasn't sharply hit, it nevertheless was enough to drive Kent Newcomb home from third. The eighth inning marked a full-circle turn in the game. Tri-City's first inning 5-0 lead had been obliterated Alton, now 23-11, will represent District 22 at the Fifth Division Tournament at Harrisburg in a 1:30 p.m. game against District 23 champ Carlyle.

Chip Brakeville was the winning pitcher in Saturday's Alton win. Marissa's Rich Hargis (who threw a no-hitter against Belleville for the South Division crown) won the distance against Alton in Sunday's first game. In the championship game, lefthander Tom Murray got the victory for Alton.

Marissa finished the season with a 20-17 record.

fifth, after its five-run first inning.

Thursday, it looked for a time as if Tri-City could break on top in extra innings, once again forcing Alton to come from behind.

After a leadoff ground-out in the eighth, Blake Amduch singled to center. Mike DeGonia followed and made it first and second when he was struck on the upper part of his left arm by a pitch from Alton's Bob Greene.

Catcher Steve Ficker, who entered the game in the seventh as a replacement for Mark Linhart, who had been ejected by the home plate umpire, then struck out.

What followed was a decision that Tri-City coach Kirk Champion will probably remember for awhile. Kevin Sykes was at the plate. With two outs and on a sloppy field, Champion called for the hit and run. Sykes missed the ball and the throw from Alton's (Continued on Page 19)

GC kickers may play in U.S.-France game

NEW YORK — France and the United States, whose National Teams met at Giants Stadium (E. Rutherford, N.J.) on May 2 and will play again in Paris on October 10, will oppose one another in a full youth international match on August 4 in the Los Angeles area. Four Granite Cityans have a shot at being on the U.S.A. teams.

The players for the United States Youth team will be selected from a group now in training at the Olympic Training Site in Colorado Springs, Colo. at the National Sports Festival (NSF). Among the young athletes there are four from Granite City: Jack Burnett, David Fernandez, Randy DeRousse and Tony Pierce from the Illinois Select Team. Fernandez, however, probably will not be able to play if selected because of an injury received in workouts at the training site.

Fernandez suffered sprained knee ligaments and was on crutches for a short time last week. Friday, however, he was walking on his own. The injury, while not extremely serious, probably would keep him out of action for the U.S.A.-France game.

The game, which will be sponsored by the United States Soccer Federation

DeRousse, Burnett doing well

COLORADO SPRINGS — Word from the National Sports Festival II is that two Granite City soccer players, Randy DeRousse and Jack Burnett, are making their presence felt.

DeRousse and Burnett are among four Granite Cityans selected to attend the Sports Festival and participate in the soccer competition. The others are David Fernandez and Tony Pierce.

In action near the National Olympic Training site, the Midwest team — on which the GC natives play — has already guaranteed itself at least a silver medal. Friday, the Midwest defeated the East squad 5-4 in a come-from-behind game. Trailing 3-1 going into the second half, the Midwest scored three goals in a six-minute span to take the win. In other action Friday, the South beat the West 2-0.

(USFF) in cooperation with the California Youth Association-South, will be played at the Pierce College Stadium in Woodland Hills at 5:45 p.m.

The match between the two countries' best players will be staged as the first game of a double-header.

Saturday, The Midwest defeated the South 2-1. In that game, DeRousse was pitted up against Mat Malloy of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville — and held his own. In fact, Malloy became so frustrated with DeRousse, that he was taken out of the game by his coach with nearly seven minutes remaining. In the other game Saturday, the East and West tied 1-1. There were no games scheduled for Sunday.

The Midwest will play the West today at 6 p.m. (Mountain Time). The final game is set for Tuesday. Fernandez, an All-American player from GCHS South, suffered a bruised knee last week in practice and is out of competition. Pierce, a star goalie for GCHS North, is scheduled to start in the nets in tonight's game.

The American Soccer League's Los Angeles Skyhawks will host the Sacramento Gold in the second game.

The game is another part of the good working relationship that has been established between the federations of France and the United States," said President Gene Edwards, nounced later.

GC physicals set

GRANITE CITY — Physicals for high school boys wanting to participate in interscholastic sports during the coming school year will soon be given a chance to obtain their physical examinations.

The Olympics, no. Fun, yes.

GRANITE CITY — They weren't exactly the same caliber as the Olympic team divers, but there was a lot of splashing going on here Saturday, nonetheless, as the Paddlers Diving team of Granite City hosted the annual Southwestern Illinois Swim Association (SWISA) diving championships.

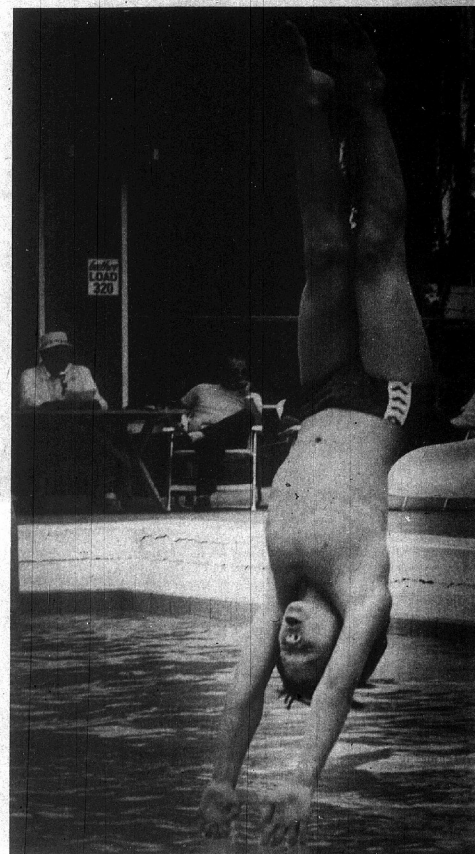

Dorchester of Belleville won the team title, but Paddlers finished a strong second, just eight points behind.

There were thrills, spills and belly flops as children from the 10-and-under categories through the 15-17 boys and girls group did their thing on the board.

Paddlers had nine place-getters out of 14 divers entered. Even though the team had no first-place finishers, it did have two second places and several thirds, fourths, fifths and sixths. Enough depth to claim second place.

This was the first time this season that Paddlers' divers have not come away the winner. In dual meet competitions, the Paddlers are undefeated. But Dorchester had just a little better depth to end that skein. The threat of rain and chill breezes (they were chilly if you had just gotten out of the water in a swimming suit), did not hamper the divers.

Stephen Wiltz in the 10-and-under boys division. Tony Ellis and Shari Mohne finished third in their age groups. Ellis in the 11-12 boys and Mohne in the 15-17 girls.

Susan Metzger had a fourth place finish in the 10-and-under girl. John Everright was fifth in the 11-12 boys. Mike Golightly was fifth in the 13-14 boys group. Amy Polate was sixth in the 11-12 year old girls divisions.

For Paddlers, Mike Costello was third in the 10-and-under boys division. Troy Adamatis was fifth in the same age group.

In the 11-12 girls category, Cathy Lenglin of Paddlers placed third. Rick Scubish was third for Paddlers in the 13-14 boys group.

Lisa Lilly was a strong third place finisher in the 13-14 girls group for Paddlers. She finished less than half a point behind the second place finisher.

Kristen Doneff finished sixth in the 10-and-under girls division for Paddlers. Besides Jolly, Paddlers had another place-getter in the 15-17 boys group. Jim Gaddo placed fourth. Groups in which Paddlers had no place-getters were the 16-17 girls, and the 10-and-under girls.

The second place finish for Paddlers improved on its showing last year when it placed fifth.

In the race for 11-12 year old boys championship, Doneff finished with 110.85 points, compared to the 117.60 amassed by Greg Lorschak of Summersport.

In the 15-17 boys race, Jolly had 233.90 points, while the winner - Steve McGlynn of Dorchester - finished the competition with 262.55 points.

In total, Dorchester had 12 place-getters out of a possible 14 entered in all age groups. Paddlers had nine.

Alton

 catcher had Ambuehl out before he could begin to slide.
 "Hondo (Ambuehl) is not going to score on a Sykes hit anyway, so we decided to start the runners," explained Champion. "We wouldn't have gotten where we were if we hadn't gambled. The last thing anyone expected in that situation was a steal. Maybe I was a 40-year-old manager. I wouldn't have done it, but I'm only 21."

The play ended the inning for Tri-City, and it provided an obvious reversal of the momentum. "In a ball game like this momentum means so much," Alton's Curt Hagen said. "When they got those two men on in the eighth they had it. But when we got them out it turned over to us."

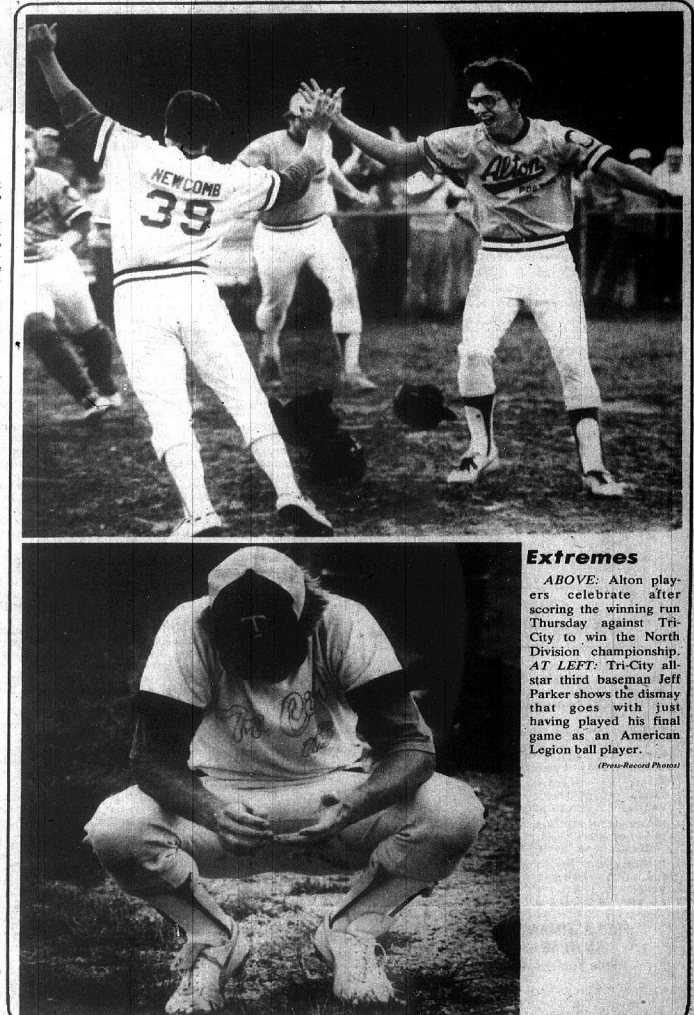

Propelled by the turn of events Alton started the inning much as Tri-City had. The first man up grounded out, then Kent Newcomb singled.

Tri-City had Al Yount on the mound to begin the eighth, replacing DeGonia, who had pitched the seventh. Yount's first two pitches to Doug Henderson were low and outside. Both went off Ficker's glove, and Newcomb went to second, then third.

It was time for another crucial decision on Champion's part. He ordered Henderson to be put on first, then to intentionally walk Dave Ringhasen to load the bases.

Tri-City was hoping for a grounder to start a double play, or at least to cut down the winning run at the plate. As it turned out Tri-City did get the grounder, but not the one they had hoped for. Morrissey hit the ball toward the right side of the drawn-in infield. It eluded Tri-City first baseman Jim Thurman's glove by inches, and scored Newcomb without a throw from the right fielder.

It was, as they say, all over then but the shouting. And for Alton that took quite awhile.

Extremes

Sam Perkins takes national Greco title

IOWA CITY — Granite Cityan Sam Perkins came away with all the marbles here over the weekend by taking the national championship in his weight division of the national Greco-Roman tournament at the National Freestyle and Greco Tournaments held here Tuesday through Saturday.

Perkins, a recent graduate of Granite City South High, defeated nine opponents over the course of the tournament for the crown, including a 9-8 decision over fellow Illinoisan Jim Lair for the title. Perkins wrestled in the 143 pound division.

Perkins began the tournament by pinning Mark Grant of North Carolina and Jed Stills of Florida.

He then had decisions over Jim Olsen of Connecticut (by disqualification), Scott Linkey of New York (28-0), Kevin Jacques of Wisconsin (15-5), Mike Mankowich of New York (17-4).

Perkins then pinned Del MacNair of Illinois before beating Mankowich a second time, this time by the score of 10-9 in the semifinal match.

Perkins' brother Dean, who went to the tournament as the Illinois state champion in his freestyle weight, finished eighth in the Greco tournament, but did not place in the freestyle event.

Sam Perkins did not compete in the freestyle tournament.

Sam has announced intentions to enroll at Illinois State University in the fall.

WE'RE SOLD ON YOUR HOUSE BEFORE WE SELL IT.

Our theory is simple. We take the time to know your house, price it correctly, and discover its distinctive features. Because when we're sold on it, it's much easier to find the right buyers and close the sale.

Then, we even save you time after the sale by helping with the time-consuming paperwork.

It's all a matter of spending your time wisely so it doesn't waste yours. This is another reason why CENTURY 21 helps more people buy or sell their homes than any other real estate sales organization in the world.
